

Wow, wow, wow, it's hot—hot news!

Bikram's dream of worldwide yoga is almost realized with the start of the Bikram, Inc. franchise in the US. This is a new beginning of the Bikram Yoga global community.

Thank you to the studio owners and future studio owners for all of your patience. Please follow the instructions on our website and things will go much smoother.

I am counting on you to cooperate and accept the change graciously so we can move the process forward.

Always hope for the best, be positive. We needed to make this move to a franchise in order to create a sustainable global family. What feels difficult now will soon become a blessing.

We finished a very successful teacher training in Palm Springs with over 321 graduates from countries as diverse as Russia, Morocco, Greece, Malaysia, Ireland and Romania, followed by the biggest advanced seminar ever.

I had a wonderful visit to Europe in May and was able to visit many studios. I am enjoying my summer and looking forward to my fall seminars.

We are also scheduling my 2010 seminars, if you would like to arrange one please email Ainslie.

The whole world is moving towards globalization so we all need to do our part to contribute to Worldwide Yoga.

See you in the Fall teacher training!

Love & Peace,

Rajashree
